Pause the journey — Enjoy the destination

“It’s not the destination, it’s the journey,” said American philosopher Ralph Waldo Emerson in the 19th century, but... not always! This may be the motto of many convertible drivers — but guess what: sometimes the destination truly outshines the journey. Picture a stunning panoramic view of the Tuscan hills, far from the traffic. Two glasses of Montepulciano poured, feet up, and there you have it: the setting sun treats you to a breathtaking spectacle.

Designed by Dirk Wynants, this latest Tool for Togetherness will make its debut at Salone del Mobile Milano 2025.

A new perspective on the landscape

Buckle up for pure relaxation! Meet the Extremis Cabrio, the ultimate two-seater sofa that turns your terrace into the best spot in town. Forget the driveway—this ride is made for open-air lounging.

Step in with your favorite co-pilot and cruise into a world of unmatched comfort and joy, all from your own garden. Side by side, you can soak in the panoramic view, taking in every little change in the landscape around you. Because even when you're not moving, the world is.

And the best part? No steering required. Just sit back, relax, and enjoy the ride.

The Strandkorb, or Beach Basket, is more than just a seat—it's a cultural icon. Born in the 19th century, it has stood the test of time, proving its undeniable charm. Yet, for over a century, its design remained practically untouched. This opened the door for a modern reinterpretation, enhancing both its functionality and aesthetics while honoring its rich heritage.

Dry and protected from sun and wind

The convertible top keeps your sofa cushions dry when not in use. At the same time, you can position it to protect yourself from the sun, stay comfortably out of the wind, and avoid being blinded by harsh light. This means you can settle into your Cabrio in every season. Whether it's the autumn scenery, the first blossoms of spring, or even a winter wonderland with a cozy blanket—you'll always have the perfect spot to admire the outdoors.

Comfort in new dimensions

Soft, comfortable seat cushions with a headrest turn this outdoor sofa into a snug, cozy cocoon. Outdoor living should be carefree, so you can sit down whenever you want — no need to drag cushions around or wipe down a wet bench. You save time, and you'll use the sofa more often simply because a dry, soft seat is always ready for you, all year round.

The convertible top not only protects your cushions but also enhances your comfort:

- Once inside, the top shields you from the elements. Even when it's just a little too chilly, you can still enjoy the view and fresh air.
- It provides a shaded, relaxing seat—perfect for hot summer days.

Additionally, Cabrio offers:

- A footrest for ultimate comfort and ergonomic support, which neatly folds away into the storage compartment underneath the seat cushion when closing the top.
- A handy spot to place your drink.
- Storage for your book, sunglasses, smartphone, blankets and more.
